TEN GIRLS AND EIGHT BOYS GRADUATED FROM HIGH SCHOOL AT BARIUM SPRINGS LAST MONTH

Splendid Addresses Made by Three Speakers.—Many Special Awards Made at Final Exercises.—Bibles Presented to Each Senior on Graduation Night

The 1935 commencement is over, and with its conclusion on Monday night, April 22nd. ten girls and eight boys finished their courses in the high school at the Presbyterian Orphans' Home. Sixteen of these were enolled in the Orphanage, while the other two were sons of workers at the institution.

Those concluding their high school work were Elsie Brown, of Oxford; Leone East, of Winston-Salem; Maude Inman, of Wilmington; Thelma Johnston, of Hickory Grove; Laura Lane McKee, of Clarkton; Bonnie McKenzie, of Carthage; Miriam Sanders, of Raleigh; Irene Shannon, of Gastonia; Iris Spencer, of Morganton; Joy Stone, of Hickory; Edward Burney, of Clarkton; Ernest Clark, of Bolton; Cheek Freeman, of Charlotte; Eston Lackey, of Barium Springs; T. L. O'Kelley, Jr., of Barium Springs; A. D. Potter, of Kinston; Sydney Parrish, of Red Springs, and Carson Wood, of Durham.

The four-day period of exercises began on Friday night with a presentation by the grammar grades and individuals; the baccalaureate and Young People's League sermons were preached on Sunday; the class-day exercises were on Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock and the final program started at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

After the processional, Rev. W. C. Brown, pastor of Little Joe's church, pronounced the invocation and T. L. O'Kelley, Jr., second honor student, delivered the salutatory address. Elsie Brown, one of the seniors, rendered a piano solo and the seventh grade sang "Waiting for the Springtime". In the absence of Mrs. J. Q. Holton, seventh grade teacher who was ill and who usualy awards the seventh grade certificates, this was done by Mr. T. L. O'Kelley, head of the local schools.

Dr. Lynn's address was followed by a piano duet by Iris Spencer and Maude Inman and R. G. Calhoun presented the graduates with their diplomas. He also announced that music certificates would later be sent to Elsie Brown, Maude Inman and Iris Spencer. T. L. O'Kelley, Jr., president of the class, acknowledged the diplomas, after which Mr. Brown presented the Bibles.

Mr. Jos. B. Johnston, superintendent of the Orphanage, presented the medals. The most coveted one is the Ace medal. This annually goes to the Senior who, by a vote of the officials, workers, teachers and high school members, has done the most consistent work in all departments and who has made the most improvement during the whole life of the student while at the Orphanage. This went to Cheek Freeman. The runner-up was Ernest Clark.

Iris Spencer won the Bible medal. This is given to that member of the senior class who has recited the Shorter Catechism and certain passages of the Bible, and who has also made the highest average in Bible for the high school course. The music improvement medal goes to that member of the music class who has made the greatest improvement in piano for the school year. Irene Fort won this and the runner-up was Lucy Bryant.

Two scholastic medals, which are annually presented, and given to those members of the high school and the grammar grades who have made the highest averages for the immediate past year. T. L. O'Kelley, Jr., won the high school medal with an average of 96.974 for the 1934-1935 scholastic session. Closely on his heels were Louise Wilson with an average of 96.842 and Miriam Sanders with 96.698. Myrtle Mills won the grammar school scholastic medal. Her average was 94.5. Runner-up was Edward Cole with 94.18.

CHURCHES INCREASING GIFTS NUMBERED 385

Names of Churches Given and Also Distribution According to Presbyteries

The 1934-1935 record shows that 385 churches or mission points in the Synod of North Carolina increased their giving to the Orphanage over the previous year and that seven of them gave identical sums for the two fiscal periods. This is a grand total of 392 that either equalled or went beyond their giving of the 1933-1934 year.

The churches which exceeded their giving were distributed between Albemarle Presbytery 32, Concord 48, Fayetteville 64, Granville 30, Kings Mountain 21, Mecklenburg 68, Orange 47, Wilmington 49 and Winston-Salem 26.

Those churches which gave the same amounts for the two years were Bridgewater and Siloam in Concord Presbytery, Four Oaks in Fayetteville, Fairview in Granville, Gilead in Orange, Brown Marsh in Wilmington and Danbury in Winston-Salem.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS SERVED ALMOST HALF OF MEALS

Fayetteville Presbytery Had Double Distinction.—49 Are in $100.00 Group

There were approximately 330,000 meals served at the Orphanage during the past year, for 300 children served three times a day and multiplied by 365 days of the year figures out to be exactly 328,500. Sunday Schools of the Synod, through their monthly offerings, have been challenged to serve all of the meals at the Orphanage, and for convenient figuring the sum of ten cents per meal per child has been used, even though it cost less than that.

However on that basis, the giving of the Sunday Schools in 1934-1935 could have served 155,940 of those meals, which is not quite half of the total. This means that the Sunday Schools regularly contributed $15,594.03 to the Orphanage in the past 12 months which is $2,127.61 more than they gave in 1933-1934. Consequently, 21,276 more meals could have been served the Barium children by the offerings from the Sunday Schools in the fiscal period which just ended.

Fayetteville Presbytery had the double distinction of having the largest number of Sunday Schools regularly assisting Barium during the past year and of giving the greatest amount of any Presbytery. There were 52 Sunday Schools in Fayetteville which sent the Orphanage a total of $2,729.97. Runner-up in those helping was Mecklenburg with 38 but Concord ranked second in the total amount given with $2,638.80. Granville Presbytery was at the bottom of the list with total contributed, the sum of that Presbytery being $833.82, and Granville also tied Winston-Salem Presbytary for the smallest number of Sunday Schools helping—13 in each of those two Presbyteries.

Watch The Messenger next month for a different arrangement of the Presbyteries, for the June issue will list these according to the per capita giving, which is a true criterion of what each is doing. However, the numerical arrangement of these is as follows:

| Presbytery | Number S. S. | Total Amount |
|---|---|---|
| Fayetteville | 52 | $2,729.97 |
| Concord | 35 | 2,638.80 |
| Mecklenburg | 38 | 2,562.84 |
| Orange | 33 | 1,769.61 |
| Kings Mountain | 23 | 1,760.00 |
| Winston-Salem | 13 | 1,367.52 |
| Wilmington | 35 | 1,003.80 |
| Albemarle | 19 | 927.67 |
| Granville | 13 | 833.82 |
| TOTALS | 261 | $15,594.03 |

For the past several months those Sunday Schools which have contributed as much as $100.00 have been recorded in The Messenger. Three more were added during the early part of April as old-year gifts were received, bringing the final total in this group to 49. The treasurer of the 50th Sunday School which would have been in this group has not yet fowarded the final half-year offerings and consequently it is not recorded.

Raleigh First in Granville Presbytery and Front Street and Hickory First in Concord Presbytery were the only three in the list of

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Anderson Sunday School in Albemarle Presbytery, and The Gleaners in the High Point Sunday School in Orange Presbytery were the new-comers last month to that ever-increasing rank of Sunday Schools giving an offering per month to the Orphanage. It's a real joy to learn of this, and there's going to be additional joy next month because it is already known that another Sunday School has incorporated this in their program.

SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA SHOWED INCREASE OF 16.4 CENTS PER CHURCH MEMBER LAST YEAR

Six Presbyteries Increased Per Capita Giving in 1934-1935, Four Having Done This Two Years in Succession. Concord Presbytery Had Largest Increase

The Synod of North Carolina showed an average increase of 16.4 cents per member to the Presbyterian Orphans' Home at Barium Springs during 1934-1935, as compared to the report at the conclusoin of 1933-1934. During the latter year the average was 86.6 cents per church member, and during the year just concluded the average was $1.03 per church member.

This is the final table of receipts for the past year and includes all of the funds which were received in April during the time the books were held open to receive last-minute contributions.

While Synod showed this substantial increase over 1933-1934, it was still below the minimum amount of $1.20 needed, but the larger per capita amount is encouraging and officials at the Orphanage believe that the giving is on its way to a normal income. Perhaps Synod will equal the $1.20 at the end of 1935-1936, or come very close to it.

Six of the nine Presbyteries showed per capita increases, the most notable being that of Concord Presbytery, which gave 63 cents more per member in 1934-1935 than in 1933-1934. Fayetteville Presbytery ranked second with an increase of 20½ cents per member, with Orange close behind with a 19½ cent increase. Albemarle showed a 10 cent increase. Wilmington was 9¼ cents more than the previous year and Mecklenburg made a climb of 7½ cents. Albemarle, Concord, Fayetteville and Wilmington have thus shown increases in per capita giving two years in succession.

The combined increase for the two years for these four distinctive Presbyteries has been Concord 74 cents; Fayetteville 25¾ cents; Albemarle 22¾ cents and Wilmington 11¼ cents.

The three Presbyteries showing declines were Winston-Salem, 5 cents less per member; Kings Mountain, with 2¼ cents less and Granville, ¾ cents less than in 1933-1934. This is the second year that Winton-Salem and Granville have shown decreases in their per capita giving.

Winston-Salem, Concord, Albemarle, Kings Mountain and Mecklenburg finished the year in one-two-three-four-five order, which was the same stack-up as that of 1933-1934. From there on down was a shake-up. Granville and Orange swapped places, and so did Wilmington and Fayetteville. The 1933-1934 standing, respectively for these four, was Granville, Orange, Wilmington and Fayetteville, while that of 1934-1935 was Orange, Granville, Fayetteville and Wilmington.

Winding Up of 1934-1935 Year

Like the Train Through Arkansas

You've heard of that slow train through Arkansas, haven't you? Well, the receipts at the Orphanage during the first month of the new 1935-1936 fiscal year were even slower than that. Synod didn't even average one cent per church member in April. Actually it was nine-tenths of a cent.

The total sum was only $763.89 from the 79,208 members in this Synod, and this sum was not sufficiently large to operate the Orphanage even three of the 30 days of the month. It could have taken care of the average expenses for 2 2-3 days. In other words the Orphanage received about one-tenth of the amount needed to carry on the work in April.

| Presbytery | April Receipts | Am't Rec. Per Mem. | Am't Due |
|---|---|---|---|
| Albemarle | $ 77.68 | 1¾c | 10c |
| Concord | 201.60 | 1¾c | 10c |
| Kings Mountain | 73.46 | 1¼c | 10c |
| Orange | 113.49 | 1¼c | 10c |
| Mecklenburg | 170.26 | 1 c | 10c |
| Granville | 43.00 | ¾c | 10c |

O'Kelley Resigns; Calhoun Selected

T. L. O'Kelley, for the past 11 years principal of the schools at the Orphanage, has resigned his position here to accept work with a popular encyclopedia corporation. R. Glenn Calhoun, who has been connected with the local schools for the past six years, has been named as his successor.

Announcement of this resignation was made by Mr. O'Kelley at the closing exercise of the 1935 commencement, when he expressed his appreciation to the management, teachers, workers and children for the co-operation which had been given him through his tenure of office. He stated that he started his work at Barium with the class that was graduating that night. Mr. O'Kelley generally awards the diplomas but he said that he was asking his successor, Mr. Calhoun, to perform this pleasure.

Mr. O'Kelley will reside in Statesville after June 1st. Statesville will be his headquarters for a territory of nine counties, which he will cover as sales representative for a junior and senior encyclopedia. The retiring principal is a native of Georgia, from which state he came to take up his work at the Orphanage.

The new principal is a native of Scotland County and is one of six Calhoun brothers who attended Davidson College and who perhaps hold the record for consecutive attendance of one family at that institution. He came direct to the Orphanage in the fall of 1929 after his graduation in June, and has been an able member of the local faculty.

COMMENCEMENT

in and sang "Farewell, Dear Seniors" as they stood behind the chairs of the graduates, Miriam Sanders, first honor student, delivered the valedictory and the exercises closed with the benediction pronounced by Dr. Lynn.

"Preparedness" was the subject of the commencement address delivered by Rev. L. Ross Lynn, D. D., superintendent of Thornwell Orphanage, at the closing exercises, which proceeded as follows:

In his address Dr. Lynn said that he did not intend to speak on the problem of national preparedness but in terms of individual preparedness, their duties and their responsibilities. He said that when the whistle blows for a football team to take the field it does not take much imagination for any person to realise all that has gone before in the preparation of the eleven men selected, such as diet, drilling, drudgery, mastery of plays, self-discipline, and other things. The whistle is now blowing for each of you graduates because you are going out to meet life. I want to ask you the question, 'Are you ready?' "

He referred to Paul, calling attention to the fact that on three different occasions he said, "I am ready." "Paul seemed to be on his very tiptoes. He was ready to serve, to suffer, even to lay down his life. That which gave Paul this strength, this courage and this readiness was a profound realization of Christ in his life."

"Some of you," said Dr. Lynn, "may say that you haven't had a chance because of the circumstances under which you have obtained your preparation. Some of you may have been inclined to envy others—others who ride around in fine limousines, some of whom ride in airplanes, some of whom live a life of ease. We who have had a chance to know life don't think that. Our sympathy goes out to the sons and daughters of the rich, and not to the poor boy or girl.

"Something goes into the mettle and makeup of a poor child that no rich child may be able to get. A rich man once said that he felt the poor boy or girl had advantages over the rich one." At this juncture, Dr. Lynn referred to the achievements of the alumni of both Thornwell and Barium Springs and said that these people, with all of the handicaps and limitations of a place like an Orphanage, had attained success.

"You're not handicapped," he emphatically told them, "for you must recognize and feel that whatever success you have already attained and whatever success shall come in the future will be because of your own efforts. You say that you aren't especially prepared. I say to you that a boy or girl in here has a better chance than the ordinary high school boy or girl in getting their preparation."

Dr. Lynn contended that preparation lay in grasping the great elemental and fundamental principles of life, and that no life could be successful without these. He said that a boy may be prepared for a professorship or deanship in a college as he works in a dairy. "What's the connection?" he asked. "It's because that boy learns lessons of regularity, promptness, thoroughness, gentleness, patience, self-control and humility. Those are necessary and elemental things.

"Unless there is incorporated in your life the great fixed and eternal principles of right, truth, honesty, purity, sobriety and unselfish service you will not be a success. Fix some of these standards in your life and live by them, even if the world goes in the other direction. Those who stray from these fundamentals are headed for destruction the same as a ship without a compass goes on the rocks."

In closing he told them that if they were going to live by the lessons learned at Barium it would require courage—courage to stand by your convictions as to duty and responsibility. "I plead with you to take the eternal truths of God's Book, live by it, even if you have to die for it."

Baccalaureate Sermon

Rev. J. H. Henderlite, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Gastonia, was the baccalaureate sermon speaker, and he chose as his subject, "Be a Well-Digger". The kernel of his sermon was "Be a well-digger; make your life a well of water to other people."

Dr. Henderlite centered his address around Jacob's well—a well which had been in existence for 17 centuries when Christ met the woman of Samaria at its brink, and which continues to flow with refreshing and cooling drink after another 19 centuries. As he thought of this well and its refreshing value, he compared it to a picture of a life, "a life," he said, "that shall be a blessing and an inspiration to other people. Go away and leave a well behind you," he urged, "which will be a help to others."

He admonished his hearers that the business of life was not how much money they made, but declared that it was how "you make your life count." He advised them to live a deep life, one that isn't shallow, superficial, filled solely with the desire to make money, and to revel in pleasure. "Go down deep to the reservoir of moral and spiritual truth," he urged, "and dig a well of truth, fellowship, service, courage and confidence."

"Conduct this business of digging a well—a life," he said, "in such a way that your fair play, honesty and observance of the golden rule will be able to help other people to dig wells."

During a part of his sermon, the Gastonia minister told his hearers about the Dead Sea. Answering his own question as to why it was called such, he said that it had the lowest level of any body of water in the world, it was likewise the saltiest and consequently the deadest. The reason of this, he said, was that something was flowing into it all of the time, but nothing ever flowing out. "It is always receiving," he said, "but never giving" and the inference was that a life would be dead if it was always receiving benefits and never giving anything to one's fellow men.

"You've got to do something more than make a living; you've got to build a life," he said, "Money doesn't make life. Don't think of your wealth, but think of the commonwealth. Make your standard one of honor, fair play, influence, fellowship and co-operation."

Y. P. Sermon

"Christianity for Youth" was the subject of the sermon of Rev. J. W. Witherspoon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Lexington, when he spoke to the several Young People's League groups at Barium on Sunday night, April 21st.

Pick up Witherspoon's Sermon

Mr. Witherspoon began his sermon by saying that Christianity knows no limit of age, that there are none too old to become a Christian nor none too young when they reach the age of discretion. But Christianity, he said, is particularly interesting and appealing to young people. He proceeded to recount the reasons of this and first of all, he maintained that it was because of the Founder—Christ.

"Jesus was a young man, possessed with all the fire and vigor and enthusiasm of youth. He was only 30 years of age—a comparatively young age—when His ministry began and but three years older when it was concluded. The second reason advanced was that Christ's life was one of great intensity. His was a ceaseless, restless mood, and we know of His activity by the oft-repeated words straightway, immediately and forthwith,' throughout the accounts of His ministry.

"Jesus was strong," he advanced as a third reason why He should appeal to young people, and the Lexington pastor pointed out that He was strong in both a physical and moral way. "It took a strong man in those days," he said, "to be a carpenter. He fasted 40 days and 40 nights in the wilderness, and no weakling could have done this. He drove out the money-changers in the temple. He went without rest and without eating, and He refused an opiate while on the cross.

"Jesus was courageous," was another contention. "In the face of religious leaders of the times and in going against what people had believed for centuries He showed great courage. Jesus was always willing and anxious. He had the courage to go to Jerusalem, even though He knew what awaited Him there."

As a second major reason why Christianity should appeal to youth, Mr. Witherspoon said that is was the religion itself. "It is a religion of the present, one which we can enjoy now. It has benefits and blessing which any boy or girl can enjoy now, such as fellowship with Him, the strength and power of the Holy Spirit. It also gives us something to do, and then dares us to do it. 'If any man come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me'," he quoted, and claimed that there was plenty of daring in that command.

Class-Day Exercises

Gathered together for the final assembly of the class as a unit, the seniors presented a novel class-day program. Interspersed with songs and witty remarks by individual members, the exercises included the reading of the class history by Leone East, the last will and testament by Joy Stone; the prophecy by Miriam Sanders and presentation of class gifts, appropriate to each individual, by Laura Lane McKee.

Friday Night Program

The initial exercise on Friday night, April 19th, was entertaining and interesting to the many people who filled the auditorium. The complete program is as follows:

134 CHURCHES FAILED TO MAKE AN INCREASE

Total Amount Behind Was $2.656.62.—Five of Them Together Lacked $1,477.51

The financial books have been closed at the Orphanage and "finis" has been written on the records for the 1934-1935 fiscal year. When all old-year funds had been recorded up to the time of closing the books on April 25th, the record showed that only 134 churches or mission points in the Synod of North Carolina failed to measure up to their 1933-1934 giving to Barium.

If five of those 134 churches had reached the previous year's sums, the total necessary from the other 129 would be comparatively small. Five of the churches fell behind last year's totals a combined amount of $1,477.51, leaving $1,179.11 for the other 129 churches. This means that these 134 churches together lacked $2,656.62 of reaching the 1933-1934 marks.

In addition to the five which were behind as much as $100.00, there were 36 which lacked between $10.00 and $100.00; 21 churches were within the range of $5.00 and $9.99; 58 of them lacked $1.00 to $4.99, and 14 of them were behind less than $1.00 of the immediate year's aggregate.

The churches in Concord Presbytery together lacked only $128.90 of reaching their 1933-1934 sums, which was the smallest total amount from any Presbytery. There were only six churches in Albemarle Presbytery which failed to measure up to their giving of last year, and this was the smallest number of churches in any Presbytery.

| Presbytery | Number Churches | Total Behind |
|---|---|---|
| Winston-Salem | 15 | $831.65 |
| Granville | 10 | 546.71 |
| Albemarle | 6 | 252 89 |
| Orange | 16 | 237.40 |
| Fayetteville | 22 | 199.81 |
| Kings Mountain | 17 | 165.93 |
| Wilmington | 20 | 162 90 |

News from Most of the Cottages

ALEXANDER COTTAGE

Hello Folks,

It's been a long time since we have written you.

Everyone is happy because they know it's about swimming season. The swimming pool will be cleaned out pretty soon.

We have a new matron. Her name is Miss Reid. We like her very much. She has taken the place of Mrs. Privette who has been our matron for 12 years. We are having our cottage repaired so that Miss Reid may have a room here all of the time. Ralph Spencer and Ed Flowers have been staying with us at night before Miss Reid came.

Bobby Adams and Henry Alessandrini have had visits from their fathers within the past week.

They are cutting hay and that means a big job for the dairy boys.

They recently killed two western steers for beef.

Strawberries are getting ripe and we are glad.

Dallas Williams has returned from the infirmary where he was confined with the mumps.

Billy Brock and Bobby Adams

INFIRMARY

Hello Folks,

Everybody has been fixing their flower gardens, so their yards will look pretty and also so that we can enjoy the flowers later.

Nellie Johnson, who spent a little less than a year with us, is now making her home at the Woman's Building. We miss her a real lot, and hope we will soon be over there, too.

Rev. R. C. Clontz and Rev. Frank Johnston, both of Wilmington, spent a night with us recently and we enjoyed having them. We hope they will come again some time.

We enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Williams, the mother of our baby, Bobby Starling. She brought her little son and baby girl with her. Bobby came later and looked over the house, but seemed to have forgotten that he ever stayed with us.

Sunday, April 28th, Rev. Plumer Smith, a missionary to Africa, preached to us in the morning and gave an illustrated lecture in the evening. We enjoyed these very much and hope he will come again. Mrs. Smith sent some of us some little elephants and other things which we appreciate.

Richard Martin and Standish McKenzie had their tonsils removed and spent a few days with us. Since these boys left we have not had any patients; but it is nearly time for green apples to appear so we will be resting until then.

BABY COTTAGE

School is out! That may sound funny, coming from us babies, but even though all of us don't go to school we can tell the difference, for our seven babies who do attend school and our three large girls are here with us all day.

Commencement and Easter both came together this year and we certainly did enjoy it all. The Easter Bunny didn't forget a single one of us. You should have seen all our toys and Easter eggs he left us. We had ever so many visitors and hope they will all come to see us again sometime soon. The only regrets we have is that it is all over with now.

We have a nice big sand pile in our front yard. It certainly is a nice place to get good and dirty but we don't mind that so long as we can make little dirt houses and mountains.

We've been making use of our two wagons here lately. One of them is minus a handle, but someone invented a new one by using a stick instead of an ordinary handle. This, to our way of thinking, is a very nice idea. Anyway, we get along fine with it.

Mama Girt took us to walk to the station Saturday night, and we enjoyed this very much. Mr. Grier has taken us for quite a few rides and Mrs. Grier has also taken us to walk. In short, we have been having a delightful time.

Two or three of us have had the "chicken pops". We can't make up our minds who will be the next to take them, but are wishing they will go away and leave us alone.

We have been working in our flower beds in hope that we will have some pretty flowers this summer. Some have already bloomed and we think they are very lovely indeed.

We certainly enjoyed having Rev. Plumer Smith with us Sunday, April 28th. His talks about Africa were very interesting; also the curios he showed us and the pictures he displayed that night.

It would be no news if we should say that we get up early every morning, go to meals three times a day, make up our beds, play, go to rest hour every afternoon, and go to bed at night, so we had better sign off since those are the only things left to tell.

We'll be with you next month.

The Babies

HOWARD COTTAGE

Hello Folks! This is Station HC.

We are glad school is out, but we miss the seniors and the teachers.

We didn't expect any of our girls to leave before vacation, but Mavis Bolton went home to stay on April 30th. We know we'll miss her.

One of our girls got her arithmetic and food mixed up. When asked what she ate for dinner she said she ate some of the triangle (meaning marmalade).

We were invited to the movies. The name of the picture was "Wings in the Dark." We thought it was fine and appreciate Mr. Sams inviting us.

We have been working in our flower beds and the flowers are looking pretty.

Rev. Plumer Smith, a missionary from Africa, preached for us on April 28th, and that night he gave us a lantern-slide lecture on Africa. It was very interesting.

Miss Lackey, the Infirmary kitchen matron, has been making potato cakes for our Sunday night cottage supper. We appreciate them, for they help out a lot.

Agnes Coppedge
Thelma McIntyre

RUMPLE HALL

School is out and every one has started their spring cleaning! We are cleaning our dining room and will soon start on our hall.

We enjoyed "Wings in the Dark" and thank Mr. Sams for inviting us to see this picture.

Two of our girls have gone home to stay. Nan Daniels went to Charlotte and Myrtle Howard to Delco. We miss them very much and especially at dish-washing time. We hope they will have a nice summer.

We had 12 girls to graduate from grammar school this year. We are real proud of them and also of the girls who received perfect attendance certificates. Our eighth grade girls received their "B. S." in Basketball.

Several of our girls took part in the commencement exercises. Martha Kinard, Nan Daniels and Elnora Eudy played a piano selection together; Sally Farmer gave a reading; several sixth graders took part in the play and the seventh grade sang "Waiting for the Maytime."

Mary Duffy Coppedge has had the mumps. She spent a week at the Infirmary, but she is back at Rumple Hall now.

Rev. Plumer Smith, a missionary from Africa, preached for us on Sunday morning, April 28th. and that night he gave us a picture-talk. It was a great privilege to have him with us.

Marguerite Wicker
Dorothy Weeks

SYNOD'S

Hello Folks.

School is out and we don't know what to do.

We have our shoes off and are having a good time going barefooted.

We started playing baseball when school was over, so that we could have something to do. We have divided up our boys between two even sides, and will keep them that way until the season is over.

Vacation time will soon come for some of us to go and see our people. Those who don't go on a vacation will go on the camping trip.

We want to thank Mr. Sams for letting us in free to "Wings in the Dark." It was a good picture.

Milton Daniels went home to stay this week. We hope he will have a good time in Charlotte.

We have not been beaten by any visitors in track this season, and hope that we will keep that record.

We have a new matron for a substitute, Miss Reid. She is very good so far, and we hope she'll remain the same.

Easter was pleasant for us, and we hope this was true for you.

We will close with "lots of luck."

Your friends,
36 WIGGLERS
—Tommy Linsday
Billy McCall

WOMAN'S BUILDING

Hello Everybody,

School is out and the Commencement exercises are over. We all seem to be glad in many ways because we won't have to be worried about our studies.

All of our senior girls have left us except Laura Lane McKee. She is expecting to work up here. We miss them very much and hope we will see them again.

Many old Barium boys and girls returned for the commencement exercises. Philippina Salvaggio, Sylvia and Bonnie Brown and Ruth Shannon spent a few days with us. We were glad to have them.

The rising juniors have begun working in the sewing room. They all like it but you often hear them talking in terms of sewing.

Annie Inman has gone home to stay for the summer; perhaps for all the time. We miss her and hope she is getting along fine.

Nellie Johnson has moved from the Infirmary to the Woman's Building. We are glad to have her with us. We hope she will like it over here as much as the rest of us.

Mr. Sams, The Playhouse manager, invited us to see, "Wings in the Dark." We appreciated it very much.

We will start taking our vacation about June 1st. Everyone is expecting to have a nice time.

ANNIE LOUISE

Hello Friends,

School is out and we are busy working our flower gardens. We are expecting to have some pretty flowers this summer.

Our matron, Miss McGoogan, is taking her vacation and we are glad to have Mrs. Holton stay with us while she is away. We hope Miss McGoogan has a most enjoyable vacation.

We were invited to the movies several days ago. The name of the picture was "Wings in the Dark" and we enjoyed it very much. We appreciate Mr. Sams, the manager of The Playhouse, thinking of us when a real good picture comes along.

One of our girls, Marjorie Bolton, has gone home to stay and we miss her very much.

We enjoyed having Rev. Plumer Smith, a missionary to Africa, preach for us on Sunday, April 28th. We hope he will come again sometime.
